

A Midsummer Night's Dream Saturday, Sept. 26, 2009 at 8PM

Stephanie Ho-Saar Ahuvia Piano Duo, founded in 2002, will present a recital - A Midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn (200th anniversary celebration) along with selections of Bach, Frescobaldi and Hungarian composer Kurtag's emotional miniatures. Interested in programming a variety of music, the duo has been exploring Bach cantata and organ prelude among others and fugue. They are also deeply committed to playing new music. While pursuing Graduate Performance Diplomas at the Peabody Institute, the couples were inspired by Leon Fleisher to explore Beethoven String Quartets in duo setting. They were also mentored by Julian Martin and Boris Slutsky. They have received many grants and awards. They are currently faculty at Concordia College's Conservatory of Music in Bronxville, NY. "The Duo gave beautifully understated performances." - New York Times, 2009. "...this concert revealed two artists with the depth and intelligence to reveal a world, an image of something beyond the notes-an experienced sound-painting."-Lorraine P. Bernstein, Concert at Templo Oheb Shalom, Baltimore, 2005
